

Final 2017 Prenotification of Estimated USAA Mutual Fund Distributions

Thank you for choosing USAA for your investments. Based on preliminary calculations as of October 31, 2017, some of the funds on the next page may have unscheduled income dividends and/or capital gain distributions in December 2017, which may be reportable on Form 1099-DIV.* Money market and most bond funds accrue dividends daily and distribute them on the last business day of the month.

Note: Investing in a non-IRA account shortly before a fund distributes dividends and/or capital gains may result in a taxable distribution.

Distributions:* The per-share amounts of the capital gain distributions are estimated on the next page. The actual distribution amounts will not be available until closer to the distribution date. If your fund(s) pay a distribution, the following dates will apply:

Record Date – If you are a shareholder of any of these funds on this date, you will receive a distribution.

Distribution Date – Known as the ex-date, the date for which there will be a decline in the net asset value per share because of the distribution amount. If you have selected reinvestment, the distributions will be reinvested as additional shares into the fund at the day's closing price.

Payable Date – If you have not selected reinvestment, the distributions will be paid on this date.

No Alternative Minimum Tax - For the 2017 tax year, none of the USAA mutual funds distributed dividend income subject to the alternative minimum tax for individuals.

Money Market Capital Gain – USAA money market funds may produce additional capital gain income above and beyond the normal monthly income distributions. The funds may do this by investing in high-quality securities that not only provide competitive yields, but also have the potential to produce gains if their issuers chose to purchase them back from investors. If there are additional capital gains, your 1099 will reflect these capital gains, and you will need to report them on your income tax return. Please contact the Tax Center at 1-800-531-6347 if you have guestions about how this information relates to your 1099 tax documents.

* If the fund lists a "Yes" and/or a monetary amount, its distributions may be reported on a tax Form 1099-DIV.

An investment in a money market fund is not insured or guaranteed by the FDIC or any other government agency. Although the fund seeks to preserve the value of your investment at $1.00 per share, it is possible to lose money by investing in the fund.

As interest rates rise, existing bond prices fall. Foreign investing is subject to additional risks, such as currency fluctuations, market illiquidity, and political instability. Non-investment grade securities are considered speculative and are subject to significant credit risks. They are sometimes referred to as junk bonds since they represent a greater risk of default than more creditworthy investment-grade securities. While the value of the Government Securities shares is not guaranteed by the U.S. Government, the Trust endeavors to maintain low-to-moderate fluctuation of share price.

Past performance is no guarantee of future results.

† This fund distributes both taxable and tax-exempt income dividends. These distributions will be reported on tax Form 1099-DIV.
